why was here together created?

Here together was created by Gina Kim after experiencing the loss of a friend during college. It was an abrupt loss and yet life continued at a rapid rate. Although others around her were experiencing the same type of grief, it was an awkward & uncomfortable subject to talk about.

Initially, she was interested in the grief experience and how to make it an easier process. But loss is personalized to everyone. Instead, she found stories brought people together. Unprompted stories can feel confrontational, which is how here together came to life.

With here together, anyone can share their thoughts, experiences, and stories about loss in a safe environment, feeling closer to their loved ones and others.
